PARTY'S BIG DAY

THOUSANDS OF DEMOCRATS AT WINCHESTER SATURDAY.

Vice President Marshall and Other Notables Open National Campaign in Kentucky.

Somewhere between 10,000 and 15,000 enthusiastic democrats gathered at Winchester Saturday to hear the first gun of the present campaign fired. Great preparations had been made for the big event and splendidly was the program carried out. Probably every county in the State was represented, while Central Kentucky counties furnished democrats by the thousands—the little city of Paris sending over more than 100 autos of the faithful. It was a great day and one that will long be remembered.

By 5 o'clock in the morning democrats began to arrive in Winchester and they continued to come until noon. Some came in buggies, some in autos, some on trains, while others either rode horseback or walked. It was anything to get there and when the good democratic gospel that was on tap and eat of the burgo and barbecued meats that seemed to be on hand in an inexhaustible supply. And when it is told that it was good it is poorly expressed; it was par excellence.

The burgo and barbecued meats were served to all but in a pavilion, back of the amphitheatre, there was a dinner that was fit for the gods. Burgo, fried chicken, old ham, baked apples, corn pudding, barbecued meat, lamb and beef, sherbet, ice cream, etc., etc. It was the work of the good women of Winchester and it told in silent tones what magnificent housekeepers are found in Clark county's capital. Admission to this pavilion was by ticket. There were seven tables and at the one in the center were seated Vice President and Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, Gov. and Mrs. Stanley E. G. McCreary, Congressman W. J. Field, of the Ninth district, Thomas F. Hefflin, of Alabama, Campbell Cantrill, of the Seventh, Hon. W. P. Kimball, of Lexington, Judge Stephenson and Judge Garner, of Winchester, Judge Clayton, of Alabama, and many other distinguished democrats of the State and nation. Congressman Helm of this city, was invited to this table, but there were not enough seats for his party, so he preferred remaining with them.

At 10 o'clock Judge John E. Garner, chairman of the committee on arrangements, introduced to the great crowd Congressman Campbell Cantrill, campaign chairman, and turned the rally over to him. His speech was one of the great things of the day. Mr. Cantrill then introduced Hon. Rufus Hardy, of Texas, who represents the district represented in years gone by by Roger Q. Mills. Mr. Hardy took the place of Hon. Scott Ferris, of Oklahoma, who could not fill his engagement. He made a great and telling speech. He dealt in facts and figures, which usually are tedious, but which were not so in his case, so well did he entertain and edify his hearers. His tributes to President Wilson brought prolonged applause, as did the many good points he scored. His effort of one and one-half hours was given with attention, and yet his hearers wanted more. Mr. Hardy made many friends for himself and the great cause for which he spoke.

An intermission of an hour was announced and the inner man was well taken care of.

At 1:20 P. M. Vice President Marshall was introduced by Mr. Cantrill and for an hour he greatly interested his hearers. The vice president is a deliberate, pleasing speaker and a hard hitter. He reviewed the work of the democratic party in the last three and a half years and the great work accomplished by the head of the nation. In paying respect to Mr. Wilson, Mr. Marshall said: "If the kite can be sent up without the tail, I would be perfectly willing to sacrifice my own election to see President Wilson returned to the White House for another four years in order to afford him an opportunity to demonstrate to the people the value of democratic doctrine." This appreciation of the beloved President was loudly applauded as were all other references to the greatest President this generation has ever seen. Mr. Marshall said so many good things that space forbids the recitation of even of the best of them. Suffice it to say, that his speech was highly appreciated and enjoyed by all.

Chairman Cantrill at this point introduced Congressman W. J. Fields, who in chosen words presented Congressman Thomas F. Hefflin, of Alabama, who is no stranger to Kentucky democrats, he having spoken from the Stanley train in many Kentucky towns last November. He is a sort of an Ollie James speaker, and is a story teller as good as the best. By the way, he and Mr. James are very close friends and are so much together in Washington that they are frequently referred to as Damon and Pythias. His references to Nominee Hughes were very amusing and brought forth much laughter, while his exhortation of the republican party must have made the few republicans that heard him wince. He predicted Mr. Wilson's election by a big majority and was certain that Kentucky's vote would be in the number that were cast for him. Said he: "I know Kentucky is a democratic State and this outpouring of Kentucky democrats today means more than that they are just here to hear the speeches that are advertised." He paid a glowing tribute to Mr. Wilson and was thankful that he lived in a day when such a man was at the head of the government. For more than an hour Mr. Hefflin held his audience, and as vast as it was, the order was almost as perfect as at a Kentucky prayer meeting. It was a great day for democracy and everything, including the weather, seemed to conspire to make it the magnificent occasion that it was.

RUSSELL—WIENTJES

The wedding of Miss Barbara Russell and Mr. Frank Wientjes was a most attractive social feature at Ottenheim last week, the ceremony being solemnized on Sept. 6th at the Catholic church, Rev. Father Leo saying the words which made this popular young couple one. The only attendants during the ceremony were Miss Helen Wientjes and Charles Montag. After the wedding, the bride party was given a delightful reception by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wientjes, parents of the groom. The bride is a most attractive young lady, the youngest daughter of Col. and Mrs. J. R. Russell, while the groom is a hustling and prominent young farmer. Both are very popular. She has been the I. J.'s very efficient correspondent at Ottenheim for a number of years, and it takes great pleasure in joining with their host of friends in extending congratulations and all good wishes for a long and happy life. Among the guests for the wedding were the following from Louisville, who spent several days with relatives and friends and returned home Saturday afternoon: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wientjes and son, Mr. and Mrs. Caldemeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Boyens and Miss Ellen Wientjes.

COOLEY—HINTON.

On September 2, Miss Mary Cooley, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cooley, and Mr. William H. Hinton of Savannah, Ga., were quietly married at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. James M. Bay in Chattanooga. Immediately after the ceremony, which was performed by Dr. W. F. Powell, of the Christian church, the happy couple left for their new home in Savannah. The bride, who is so well known here, is both charming and popular. The groom, who is a fine, young business man, of Savannah, is to be congratulated upon winning so charming a bride. Both have a host of friends who extend heartiest congratulations and wish them every happiness as they begin life together.

HILL SPALDING'S NICE TRIP

Hill Spalding, of Lexington, accompanied by Dr. Alcorn, of Hustonville, spent Saturday here with W. B. Hill and other relatives. Mr. Spalding, who is Lexington agent for the New York Life Insurance Company, has just returned from New York, where he went as a guest of the company, having attained membership in the $200,000 Club, which is a condition upon having written that much business during a year. Mr. Spalding is making a great success in his profession, and is regarded as one of the most progressive young business men of the Queen of the Blue Grass. He and his wife are guests of her father, Dr. Alcorn at Hustonville for a short visit.

TACK CAUSES DEATH

A tack in a shoe is said to have been responsible for the death of Mrs. Claude Wheeler, who lived in Casey county, a short distance from the Marion county line. Mrs. Wheeler's death was due to blood poisoning brought on by wearing a shoe with a tack slightly protruding above the bottom. It was not so uncomfortable that she could not wear the shoe, and she did not for a moment suspect that wearing it might result seriously.—Lebanon Enterprise.

Noble Woman Gone

Mrs. Priscilla Drye Passes Away Suddenly at Hustonville.

Lincoln county lost one of its very best women Sunday evening when the spirit of Mrs. Priscilla Bailey Drye returned to the God who gave it. Death came suddenly and acute indigestion is believed to have been the trouble. Mrs. Drye was in her usual health during most of the day, but complained a little in the afternoon. All of a sudden she grew desperately ill and in a few short moments the grim reaper had done its work. Deceased was a sister of Judge Bailey, of this city, and the mother of W. S. Drye, deputy sheriff. She is also survived by two sisters, Mesdames Josephine Harker and Helen Huffman and a daughter, Mrs. W. L. Evans. She was the widow of Dr. W. S. Drye, who preceded her to the grave a quarter of a century or more. Mrs. Drye was a daughter of Carroll Bailey and was born within a short distance of where she died, 82 years ago. She had never lived more than two miles from Hustonville. Since a child she had been a member of the Christian church. In her earlier days she was a splendid worker in the Master's vineyard, but during the last decade conditions were such that she could give but little time to church work. But this does not mean that she did not do the work of a Christian, for no woman tried harder to help others and make others happy than did the subject of this sketch, whose passing away brings sadness to every heart in the section in which she lived so long. Her life was an inspiration to many and her good deeds while in the flesh will be remembered long after she has settled on the grave that marks her resting place. Truly could it be said of this excellent woman that "None knew her but to love her; none named her but in praise." Unbounded sympathy is felt for the son and daughter, the brother and sisters, and the grandchildren, who loved her dearly. May they find comfort in the thought that their loss is their gain and that the gentle spirit of the Godly woman now basks in the sunshine of Him who doeth all things well. Brief services were held at the home of W. L. Evans, where Mrs. Drye lived and died, by her pastor, Rev. A. H. Varnum, and were conducted at Hustonville cemetery. The Hustonville vocal quartette rendered several beautiful selections, after which the remains were laid to rest by the side of those of the husband to await the resurrection morn.

WM. F. PERRIN DEAD.

Mrs. S. J. Embry, Sr., received a wire Friday telling of the death at Dearborn, Mo., of her brother-in-law, William F. Perrin, at the advanced age of 97. Shortly after marrying a sister of Mrs. Embry in 1840, he removed from Stanford, where he was a merchant, to Missouri, and had lived in that State since. Mrs. Perrin died many years ago, but three children of the 11 that were born to Mr. and Mrs. Perrin, survive their father. Deceased was a fine old gentleman and there are many of his old friends in Lincoln county who will learn with regret of his death.

KILLED SON-IN-LAW

SWEENEY MORGAN SHOOTS BOOTH SUTTON TO DEATH.

Prominent Garrard County Farmer Kills Young Man Alleged to Have Mistreated Daughter.

About 8 o'clock Saturday night, Sweeney Morgan, a prominent Garrard county farmer and stock trader shot and killed his son-in-law, Booth Sutton. Several reports are current and it is hard to get at the real facts of the case. It is understood that Sutton, who was a very quiet man when sober, but dangerous when in his cups, was drinking Saturday and that he had ordered his wife to leave his home. She had gone to the home of a sister, to which place Sutton followed, and he was raising a disturbance. Mr. Morgan was informed. One report is that he took his shotgun with him and went to the scene and another is that his son brought the weapon to him. Any way, he is reported to have had the gun when he approached Sutton, who was also armed with the same sort of a weapon. When within a few feet of his son-in-law Morgan fired, the load entering just below the heart and killing him instantly. The Garrard sheriff was phoned for and took Mr. Morgan in charge. He was allowed a guard until his examining trial.

CUTTING NEAR HUBBLE.

K. Dunigan, a prominent farmer of the Hubble section, cut and badly wounded a tenant named White Sunday afternoon. The report is that Dunigan and White had had a dispute over the possession of some tobacco sticks, when the latter struck Mr. Dunigan over the head with a stick. He also threw a rock or so at him, when Mr. Dunigan got hold of his knife and cut him severely across the abdomen. It is stated that two ribs were also cut in twain. Mr. Dunigan over the head with a

EUBANK BOY KILLED

William McClure son of Mr. James McClure, of Eubank, was instantly killed, at McLaughlin's Mill in Pulaski last week. The young man was hauling logs, and was stooping under the wagon, when the other log rolled from the wagon, striking him on the back, and crushing the backbone. He was 24 years old. He leaves a wife and one child. The remains were buried Wednesday at Eubank.

MADE $1,700 PROFIT ON FARM

News from Lebanon is to the effect that F. M. Pemberton, who bought the C. T. Bohon farm for $18,700, received the sum of $20,400 for it when he shortly afterwards sold it to Fay McClure, of Barbourville. Thus Mr. Pemberton turned in a very nifty profit within a very short time.

METHODIST'S GOOD WORK.

Rev. C. H. Greer, Presiding Elder of the Danville District was in the I. J. office Monday morning and reports the work in the district in fine condition. The twenty-six pastors of the district have been hard at work during the year and have achieved results worth while. Many splendid revivals have been held, the Sunday-school work built up, and while it is too early to be able to tell exactly about the financial condition, it looks like this will show up in fine condition. During the year three churches have been dedicated, another congregation is about ready to let its cordials for a splendid new building while three others are seriously talking of building in the near future. The year has been a busy and successful one and Mr. Greer says no one ever had a finer lot of preachers to work with.

MR. VAUGHAN TAKES CHARGE.

Mr. A. C. Vaughan, who has had charge of a big flouring mill at Burnside, has arrived and taken charge of the McKinney Roller Mills. He is already well known here with his work. As stated before in these columns, Mr. James McKee, who has managed the McKinney mill has gone back to Burnside. Mr. Vaughan has had a long experience in the milling business and has made great success of it. He has inherited confidence in the McKinney mill as a money maker and will prove to the public that he is.

MT. VERNON CIRCUIT COURT

In Circuit Court at Mt. Vernon last week, the court gave peremptory instruction in the case of Mrs. Minnie Anderson against the L. & N. Railroad Co. Mrs. Anderson's husband was killed by a train at Hazel Patch while walking along the track. The suit was for $20,000, with Judge Lewis Walker, of Lancaster, as attorney for the plaintiff. The suit of Dr. McWilliams against J. C. Plumer, his father-in-law, was dismissed by the court. Dr. McWilliams charged that his father-in-law had alienated his (McWilliams) wife's affections thereby bringing about their separation. At the same time divorces were granted in the case of Mrs. McWilliams against Dr. McWilliams.

Cook Book For Blind

Miss Sallie Cook Compiles Work for Use of Sightless People

Her many friends here are greatly interested in and commendatory of the achievement of Miss Sallie Cook, formerly of Hustonville, and sister of Mrs. George B. Cooper, in compiling a cook book for the blind in the celebrated Braille system of raised characters. Miss Cook is in charge of the Domestic Science department of the State School for the Blind at Pittsburg, Pa., and she compiled and had made or "printed" in the blind characters, a cook book for the use of her blind scholars and others who are afflicted with loss of eyesight. Miss Cook's work has been highly complimented by those who are familiar with the work of educating the blind. Miss Cook recently made a visit to her sister here and relatives here and at Hustonville.

CARY BLAIN LOSES MOTHER

Friends of Rev. Cary Blain, former pastor of the Presbyterian church at Hustonville, are extending him their sympathy in the loss of his mother, Mrs. M. L. Blain, who died while on a visit to him at Pineville, where he is pastor now. Mr. Blain had only been in Pineville a couple of days, having accompanied her son from her home in Virginia for a few weeks visit as was her custom since his location there. She was just ready to retire for the night and had prayed with her son and told him good night and reached her bed room when the summons came. Death ensued before a physician could reach her. Mrs. Blain is survived by six sons, four of whom are ministers of the gospel.

RED BERKSHIRES AT BIG FAIR

Quite a number of the handsome, prize-winning Red Berkshire hogs which attracted so much attention at the recent Stanford fair were shipped to Louisville late last week to be shown at the State Fair this week, and if they do not get the blues, it will be because the judges' eyesight is bad. Among those who sent down, some of their blue ribbon winners were Hon. W. G. Gooch, R. T. Bruce, and W. O. Walker, of this county. Woods Walker, of Paint Lick, W. B. Turley, of Richmond, Arch Walker, and Will Denney, of Garrard.

WHERE REAL MOOSE ARE GOING

(From Pendleton, Oregonian, Ind.) Francis J. Heney, progressive leader in California, is out in support of Wilson in preference to Hughes. So is Emmett Callahan, progressive chairman in Portland. So are most of the bull moosers who joined the third party out of principle.

MAY BE EXTRA SESSION

It looks like Gov. Stanley will call a special session of the legislature some time in November, to consider a change in the tax laws of the state. The members of the tax commission have been holding meetings with business men, bankers, farmers, corporation heads, lawyers and public officials, and have made diligent efforts to get the viewpoint of every class of persons which has taxes to pay. The commission consists of members of both House and Senate, and the report which it will make to the Governor will contain the complete drafts of a bill which is expected to revise thoroughly and in detail all of the existing tax laws of the State, and this bill will go before the extra session as an administration measure. The members of the tax commission will have the advantage of being on the floor of each House to defend their conclusion.

General News Notes

W. H. Roberts has been appointed circuit clerk in Boyle to succeed W. S. Rowland resigned.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Logan Minor, of Perryville celebrated their Golden Wedding August 30th. James B. Simpson has been appointed postmaster at Cynthiana. He is a wholesale groceryman and a Yukon territory went wet by three majority in the first local option election held there.

The Louisville Street Railway Company voluntarily gave its motor-men and conductors an increase in wages of one cent an hour.

Hubbard Walton and Miss Mary Bruner, near Buena Vista, Garrard county, drove over to Harrodsburg and secured a license to wed.

The attendance at the Kentucky State Fair yesterday was 29,351, which breaks all records for the first day of the fair. Ideal weather contributed toward attracting the crowd.

Following the killing of Downey Luckick, of Bloomfield, by Smith Wilson, a negro, at the fair grounds at Bardstown, threats were made to lynch the prisoner. Officers took the prisoner to the Louisville jail.

Sunday the 11-year-old son of Mr. Richard Hicks, who resides near the High Bridge on the Kentucky River, was bitten on the ankle by a copperhead snake. The reptile planted its fangs so deeply in the boy's flesh that it was dragged fully 20 feet before it released its hold. The child will recover.

Interest in the local option election to be held in Cumberland county on Sept. 23, is growing intense. The indications are however, that the county will vote "dry" by a good majority. Cumberland is probably the only county in the State that has never had a local option election held within its borders.

In one of the most stirring political conflicts of the year, Gov. Hiram Johnson, who was Col. Roosevelt's running mate in 1912, defeated the "straight-roads" candidate for the Republican Senatorial nomination in California last week. When Hughes toured California Gov. Johnson snubbed him, and declined to receive the distinguished guest of the state. Milliken, Republican, was elected Governor of Maine yesterday by an estimated majority of about 12,000 and Congressman McGillicuddy, democrat, appears to have been defeated by about 500 votes. The larger per cent of Progressives voted for the Republican candidates. The Republicans also gain the Lower House and hold the Senate, and elected two United States Senators. An unusually large vote was polled.

To Vote For Wilson

Casey Republican Will Hit Under Rooster This Time.

Middleburg, Sept. 12. W. G. Raines, of Liberty, who has been a life-long republican, tells us that he will vote for Woodrow Wilson and the whole democratic ticket this year. Judge Raines was twice elected county judge as a republican, but says the party has left its first principles, besides has become wonderfully corrupt and as President Wilson has followed the paths of right and justice, he feels that it is his duty to support him.

W. T. Moore, who went to Hodgenville on the 4th inst. to see President Wilson, was delighted with the trip, and says he would not have missed it for many times the amount it cost him. He has always been an admirer of Woodrow Wilson, and is sure now that he did not over-rate him. In describing Mrs. Wilson, he says she reminded him very much of Miss Ruby Lee Fogle, and by the way, Mrs. Woodrow would take that as a compliment if she could see Miss Ruby. Jack Walls drove the car that carried the party from here and they went thru with but little trouble.

The meeting at Green River church continues with good crowds, but there have been no additions up to this writing. Rev. Gabbard is preaching some fine sermons and much interest is being manifested.

Rev. Chick, pastor of the Baptist church at Liberty, will assist pastor K. G. Martin at a meeting at Grovet so we are told. The meeting will be held some time in this month.

In conversation with several democrats while at Liberty Wednesday, we were assured that the party was in better fighting shape than ever before in this county. Senator Chas. Montgomery's kind and courteous treatment of Hon. Harvey Helm won for him the admiration of every one, and put everybody in a good humor, if indeed anybody was mad, and the whole push is at work for the Wilson-Marshall-Helm ticket from head to foot.

We learned while at Liberty Wednesday that the notorious Bill Turpin, who has been in jail for nearly three years, was fined small sums in two more cases which will give him some 50 days more to board with Jailer W. T. Brown. Judge J. C. Carter offered to dismiss those cases if he, Turpin, would promise to quit selling whiskey, but Turpin refused and the cases were tried.

Bill Foley, who did quite a big boot-legging business here in the early spring, has been catching it in the neck at Liberty since circuit began a week ago. The fines alone which have been assessed against him, will keep him in jail for two years more, to say nothing of the jail sentence attached to each fine. Bootlegging is a dangerous business to engage in in Casey.

Don't forget that after Oct. 1st, the L. J. subscription price will be $1.50 a year but till then you may subscribe for as many years as advance as you wish at $1 a year.

INSULTS TO WILSON

ALL ANSWER RADS GAVE TO BLACK'S FINE SPEECH.

Lieutenant Governor Tells of President's Splendid Achievements, But "Dandy" Insults Him.

Lieut. Gov. James D. Black opened the campaign here Monday for the democratic ticket, before a crowded house. He was introduced in a ringing speech by Congressman Harvey Helm and at once launched into the subject matter of his address.

Gov. Black first took up the Income tax question, saying that he regarded it as one of the most important measures passed by a democratic Congress. He showed clearly and plainly how the wealth of this country is made to pay its equal assessment of taxes, and how the greedy millionaires have heretofore under republican protection, been able to shift the burden of taxation from their own shoulders, where it justly belongs, to the unprotected wage earner. In detail the speaker explained the wholesome good derived from the Regional bank act, showing how under its provisions, it is now impossible for the monopolies and corporations to corner the money markets and thus create a panic, and then when the time comes for a presidential election, the republican speakers go before the country and claim that the cry of hard times comes because of a democratic administration. In beautiful and oft times poetic language, Gov. Black told of the fearful hardships of the child laborers in the country, and how under the recently enacted child labor law, no child under the age of 16, can be placed in a factory for purpose of labor.

His masterly and eloquent defense of President Wilson's foreign policy brought forth round after round of applause, and on every side was heard the highest praise of his splendid address. He called on the republican speakers to say whether or not they would have plunged the country into war, if they had occupied the position of President Wilson, saying all the enemy did in their speeches was to vilify the president for his management of the many difficult questions that had come before him.

After Gov. Black had closed his address, Dr. R. L. Davison introduced Mr. King Swope, of Boyle county. In his introduction, Dr. Davison lauded Mr. Swope to the skies, apparently forgetting that four years ago, he was equally bitter when Swope spoke here for the Bull Moose party. In opening his introductory, Dr. Davison took occasion to use some very insulting and brutal language, saying that this country now had no honor, that Woodrow Wilson was a cowardly cur, and that he had acted so weak-kneed when strife with a foreign country was threatened that the United States had lost cast with all nations of importance. It had been agreed that the audience should hear both Mr. Swope and Gov. Black, but after the insulting remarks of Dr. Davison, many fair minded men of both parties left the court room. Mr. Swope spoke for about one hour, and his remarks were somewhat on the same lines as those of Dr. Davison, though not as caustic. He criticised the foreign policy of the president though he never would say what the republicans would have done had they been in power. He made a very good address, but as one old line republican put it, "These is too ticklish times, to be sending out schoolboys," and Mr. Swope had to be content with the applause of a number of the colored brethren.

Political Announcements

The Interior Journal is authorized to announce the following candidates for office subject to the Democratic primary the first Saturday in August, 1917. (Announcement fee for each county office is $10; for magisterial and city offices, $5; no announcement will be made until fee is paid in advance.)

FOR SHERIFF
J. H. LIVINGSTON

The Middlesboro Three States calls attention to the fact that London, Laurel county, "for years the leading city in the mountains in a social and financial way has only one bank with total resources of $160,000.00, and that East Bernstadt, a small hamlet in a farming and mining section of Laurel county, has a national bank with resources of $229,000. It would appear London is on the decline." How about this Brer Dyche?

It becomes more evident every day, as the nominee borrows the pet phrases of the Colonel, "bully" for instance, that Mr. Hughes is the Colonel's candidate, thinks as he thinks and will act as he would act in the event he is made president. In fact, it is already pretty well understood that should Hughes become president that all diplomatic notes will be signed: "By the President Theodore Roosevelt, Secretary of State."

Some scoundrel sowed the Dixie Highway to Hodgenville with tacks last week when the great crowds autoed there to see the president, and scores of punctures delayed a host of automobilists. The man who is mean enough to do a thing like that would burn his neighbor's barn if he had the courage or shoot a man in the back if he wasn't a yellow-livered craven, and afraid of getting caught.

"When you have a poor case," says the law professor to the student, "abuse the other side." Lawyer Hughes hasn't forgotten this admonition and is spending nine-tenths of his time abusing the Wilson administration over trivial matters. He tries to tear down but he has no suggestion for building up.

Governor Hiram Johnson of California in an address to the Progressives at their national convention of 1916, declared: "Remember Barnes, Penrose and Crane in 1912! We left the convention because the bosses were in control." They are still in control.

Newspaper accounts say that Ed. Morrow aroused more enthusiasm at Lexington last week than Hughes. And Ed came nearer carrying Kentucky for the republican party than his whiskered friend will, too.

The Somerset News, partisan republican that it is, did a very commendable thing Tuesday when it published in full President Woodrow Wilson's speech accepting renomination for the presidency.

The real reason Mr. Hughes has not told what he would have done had he been in the President's place, is that he doesn't know.

When Mr. Hughes announces that our prosperity is only transparent, is the wish father of the thought?

Have our Republican friends given up tariff agitation as a means of stopping the wave of prosperity?

They are going to have some trouble keeping the hyphen on straight.

ARABIA

Mr. Will Lucas has raised so much corn that he had to build a corn crib. Miss Lake Lucas, of South Fork school taught school on Labor Day. Mr. Martin Stanford, of Arabia, is going to Oklahoma, where he will teach school.

Miss Vesta Sims is visiting relatives here.

Mr. Will Barnett and wife, Miss Stella Barnett and his mother are visiting here. They are from Cincinnati.

WELL'S STORE.

The Holy Roller meeting which has been going on for several days at Singleton town has closed. Not many new members but a few old members worked over.

Will McClure, a young man living at Eubank, was killed a few days ago, while unloading logs off of a wagon. Mr. McClure was a man of fine character and liked by all who knew him. Besides his wife he leaves a little daughter one and a half years old.

Mrs. C. A. Wells, who has been sick several weeks is improving.

Plato Cullip has just returned from a visit to his sons in Illinois, where he will make his home soon.

C. A. Wells while riding his bicycle the other day had a wreck. The rider will get well, but no hopes for the bicycle.

Henry Ford has sued the Chicago Tribune for $1,000,000 for calling him an anarchist.

Moreland.

Honor Roll of Moreland Graded and public School for August follows:

Grade 4.—Annie Bowen Gilmer, Ida May Ellis, Hugh Timberlake, Isiah White.

Grade 6.—Mattie Gaddis, Phil Compton.

Grade 7.—Josephine Myers.

Grade 8.—Thelma Owens, Grace Ellis, James Pipes, Edgar Taylor, Ray Durham.

The pupils whose names appear on the honor roll were not absent any and received excellent grades for their work. The grade reports were very much better this month than they were the first month and indeed better work and more interest is being manifested. The attendance is excellent and the present enrollment is 110. The excited and superfluous report that was scattered in the district that the cistern at the school building had typhoid germs in it, has been settled by a report from the State Board of Health which read as follows: "We have made bacteriological examination of the sample of water submitted by you from the cistern on the school property and are glad to inform you that we find no evidence whatever of pollution in this water." D. P. Curry.

We teachers are very much pleased to hear such a report and we hope that some of the patrons will feel at ease about their children who drink the water. We advise everybody to have their wells, cisterns etc. examined, as it cost very little and will prevent a great deal of animosity on their account.

The Literary division of the school is preparing to render an entertainment at the school in a short time. A play the "Hoosier School," will be played, besides drills, pantomimes, recitations, etc. A few more improvements are to be made in the school rooms and it is desired that a great success will be made.

Anderson School Honor Roll.

The honor roll for the second month of school, giving all who have made an average of 90 per cent, or better is as follows:

First Grade.—Askue Pingleton.

Second Grade.—Louis Jufer.

Johnna Schaffer.

Third Grade.—Mary Chappell, Arika Ridder.

Sixth Grade.—Cecil Chappell, George Breinich.

Eighth Grade.—August Iverson, Emma Jufer, Bessie Green.

The parents of this district should remember that it is required of them to send their children every day, if not confined at home on account of illness. Otherwise they will be fined for non-attendance.—H. C. Davis.

"Gets-It" Never Fails for Corns!

There's Nothing on Earth Like It For Corns and Calluses.

"Whenever you get corns and calluses, don't experiment—just use 'GETS-IT' and nothing else. Easiest and simplest thing I know to use—just a few drops on in a few seconds—'GETS-IT' does the rest." The old way is to bundle up your toes in harnesses and bandages, use knives that make raw, bleeding corns, and "diggers" that tear your heart out and leave the corn in. No wonder they make you limp and wince. Forget all that. Use "GETS-IT," the simplest corn remedy in the world, easiest to use, never fails or sticks, painless. You can wear smaller shoes. Don't forget that after Oct. 1st, the L. J. subscription price will be $1.50 a year but till then you may subscribe for as many years in advance as you wish at $1 a year.

Twenty-three persons bought tickets to Louisville this morning, most of whom went to the State Fair.

J. Nevin Carter's good stallion, Kentucky Gentleman, in the hands of Mack Hughes, won two blues and a red at the Monticello fair. He was shown only in harness rings.

W. O. Walker, R. T. Bruce, and Brother Turley, the latter of Madison, took Monday afternoon's train for Louisville to attend the State Fair. Each of the gentlemen had sent ahead a number of his good Red Berkshire hogs to be shown.

A. A. Russell, of Junction City, a valued L. J. subscriber, came over and bought the cycle car which the Bailey Garage Co., advertised for sale in this paper a couple of times. Mr. Bailey says that he is thoroughly convinced that it pays to advertise in the Interior Journal.

James W. Williams has just returned from his old home in Castlewood, Va., where he went to see his father, J. L. Williams, who has been in feeble health for some time. The old gentleman is 79 years of age and his condition is regarded as precarious.

Charles Sandridge, of Hustonville is here showing a goodly lot of winners, and among them is the famous horse, Carroll Preston, who always takes the ties at the State and Blue Grass Fairs, and makes other horses ashamed of themselves, not saying anything about the owner.—Fair Notes in Somerset News.

The Danville Messenger said last week: The Stanford Journal will on the first of the month increase its price from $1 to $1.50 by reason of cost in printing a newspaper. Editor Sausley is getting out a splendid paper and it is well worth more than the increase he is to ask.

A. C. Sine has received from Dick Hampton, who is spending his vacation on Mackinaw Island way up in Michigan a photograph of a 15-pound fish which Dick is alleged to have caught. Those who know Richard best and his propensities for the fine arts, say that he must have found a photographer up in that country who is as enthusiastic a fisherman as he is.

J. C. Jones, one of the leading attorneys, as well as the best citizens in our town, is leaving with his family for Winchester this week where they will reside in the future. We regret that Mr. Jones' business has made it necessary for him to leave Pineville where he and his estimable wife have a host of friends.—Pineville Citizen.

Leslie P. Evans, and Vernon Lear were here from Richmond on business Saturday, the former writing life insurance and the latter looking over tobacco prospects. Mr. Evans is a candidate for mayor of Richmond, and will make a splendid executive of that bustling city, in every way if he is elected. He is a splendid gentleman and has many friends here who are "pulling" for him.

Col. Alexander Tribble and his excellent wife are averse to notoriety they actually refused to have announced in the city newspapers the day of their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Both Col. Tribble and Mrs. Tribble are enjoying good health and indications are for them living to celebrate their seventy-fifth, or diamond anniversary. Here's hoping they will.—Danville Messenger.

Woman's Club News

On Wednesday, September 13th, at 3 p. m., in the Club Rooms, the Woman's Club will close its second year's program. A full attendance is urged. Installation of officers as well as discussions of plans for the ensuing year will be in order. The retiring officers are Mrs. Wm. Severance, President; Mesdames J. B. Paxton and T. J. Hill, Jr., First and Second Vice Presidents; Mrs. W. H. Shanks, Corresponding Secretary; Miss Belle Denny, Recording Secretary; Mrs. W. G. Withers, Treasurer; and Misses Mattie and Bettie Paxton, Librarians. Too much praise cannot be given these officers for their efficient and untiring services in behalf of the Club's successes for the year. It has not been the purpose of the Club to take the lead in civic matters, but to stand as "heavers of wood and drawers of water," to aid the good public spirited men of the town and county in cleaning up and purifying an atmosphere in which to live; and this year's success has been accomplished thru the support and hearty co-operation of these good people. With a number of enthusiastic members and capable incoming officers, the outlook for the ensuing year is most prosperous.

Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Shelton, of Kansas City, Mo., are spending several days with their aunt, Mrs. J. C. McClary and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Shelton M. Sausley. They motored through, about 800 miles.

Feeding for More Fat and More and Better Milk

Big Gains In Fat and Milk Yield By Feeding Distillers' Dried Grains, According to State Agricultural Experiment Station Report

The following, from the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station Reports, Bulletin 108, page 108, and the editorial from the Bourbon Stock Journal, show that it is very much to the interest of both the dairyman and the beef cattle feeder to feed distillers' and brewers' dried grains for the reason that they produce a higher percentage of milk, butter fat and fat than any other feed, for the reason that they contain such a high percentage of nutrients, very little waste and are more easily and cheaply balanced than most feeds.

Dr. Joseph A. Kastle, the director of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, in an address before the Kentucky Academy of Science May 18, 1914, said: "In our earlier experiments on beef cattle feeding, carried out by Prof. May on the experimental station from 1902 and 1903, it was found that distillers' dried grains, with corn, proved to be the most economical ration for the several employed, so that it may be regarded as established, I think, that distillers' dried grains can be turned to good account in the feeding of beef cattle."

Prof. May's feeding test referred to by Dr. Kastle, included 32 steers divided into eight lots of 4 steers each, each animal being fed separately, nothing carefully the amount of grain consumed and the grain per head.

In reference to the above experiment, Prof. May said:

"In this experiment, while less grain was required per pound of gain where nitrogenous by-products were fed, yet in some instances owing to the high cost of the by-products the grain cost more. This was the case with the cotton seed meal, the hulls and the gluten meal at the prices quoted. On the other hand, the dried distillers' grains at the price paid made, with corn, the most economical ration of the several employed. It proves not only the cheapest feed, but it took less grain per pound of gain when it entered largely into the ration."

Dr. Kastle further said in his address to the Academy of Science:

"From one-tenth to one-ninth of this corn (Kentucky production) is converted into whisky and there is obtained no less than thirty thousand tons annually of a by-product known as distillery dried grains, which contains in a concentrated form practically all of the protein and fat originally present in the corn."

"One ton of distillers' dried grain contains:

Protein 549.8 pounds
Fats 235.6 pounds
Carbohydrates 1917.4 pounds
Water 120 pounds

"As a fertilizer distillers' dried grains is worth from fifteen to seventeen dollars per ton. Calculated on the basis of its feed value it has been estimated that it is worth approximately forty-five dollars per ton."

Highest Authority Indorsement.

Prof. Henry and Morrison, in their authoritative book "Feeds and Feeding," give the following concerning Distillers' and Brewers' Dried Grains as a dairy ration:

"Distillers' grains from corn are about equal to gluten feed in feeding value. This rather bulky feed is one of the best high-protein concentrates for dairy cows, from 2 to 4 pounds per head daily being usually fed. Distillers' grains may also be used with good results as part of the ration for fattening steers and sheep."

"Dried distillers' grains, which are about as bulky as wheat bran, are extensively employed for feeding dairy cattle. Dried distillers' grains produced one-eighth more milk and one-sixth more fat than a mixture of equal parts of corn meal and bran."

The following is the result as given in the Sixteenth Annual Report of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, page 109:

BULLETIN No. 108

Dairy Cow Ring

At Stanford Fair Interestingly Discussed By Prof. Hooper

Prof. J. J. Hooper, at the head of the Animal Husbandry Department of the State Experiment Station at Lexington, has sent the I. J. a resume of the dairy cow ring at the recent Stanford fair, which Prof. Hooper judged. His observations and suggestions will be of interest to all who breed or keep cows for milk. His letter is as follows:

We had the pleasure of judging the dairy cattle at the Stanford Fair, August 23rd. Curran Bros., Mr. G. B. Swinebroad, Mr. Camenisch and Rowan Saufley all had nice Jerseys at the show. An interesting class was that in which the cows were milked in the ring, before the audience, the milk weighed and the fat determined with a Babcock tester. All the cows gave a very large quantity of milk averaging from 2 to 3 1-2 gallons at one milking. The test of fat in the case of one cow averaged 6.8%.

In other words, she produced at one milking the equivalent of 1 1-2 pounds of butter. At the evening milking she would have produced another pound, or an average of 2 to 2 1-2 pounds of butter per day. This would aggregate 16 to 18 pounds of butter per week, which is a splendid record and the cow which won in this class is owned by Rowan Saufley. In the same ring there were cows which gave large quantities of milk but which tested very low in butter fat. One cow gave 2 gallons of milk that tested only 2 1-2% of fat and which aggregated less than one-half pound of butter for the milking. She was a Jersey cow, but because of the poor quality of her milk she probably is not a profitable animal to have on the farm. It would be well to sell that cow and to test the whole herd from which she came to find which cows are producing a fair quantity of fat and those which are not then eliminate the unprofitable ones. The owner of the cow that gave this small quantity of fat was very much interested in the results of the test and was greatly surprised at the thin milk that was produced by his favorite cow. The Experiment Station is always glad to help dairymen in testing their cows at a very small cost."

Biggest In America

There are some wonderful lions with The Sparks World's Famous Shows that will exhibit here Wednesday, Sept. 20th, at the Water Works grounds. They are not only of amazing size and beauty but they have been trained to do some of the most thrilling acts ever presented to an audience. Herr Fritz Brunner, the world's greatest lion tamer, was born and raised in the jungles of equatorial Africa, and from childhood was accustomed to hear the roars of the man-eating kings of the forests that prowled about his cabin at night. His father once captured some lion cubs which he trained to aid him in hunting expeditions. Thus reared the boy naturally became a lion tamer and hunter. Selecting some cubs of the largest species known he reared them and educated them to perform feats that would illustrate the amazing strength and ability of these beasts.

During the performance of the Sparks Shows a group of these monster animals will be turned loose in the great steel enclosure in full view of the audience. Herr Brunner will enter this enclosure, unarmed, and put these lions through some astonishing performances. It is most thrilling act of the kind ever seen and will never be forgotten by the beholder.

Like every other act and feature presented with The Sparks Shows it is far away from and superior to anything of the kind ever seen before. There are numerous other trained animal acts in which tigers, leopards, hyenas, tremendous elephants, etc., will obey the command of their fearless masters.
